

What's on

October 2026

Discover free library programs
and community events

Curiosity starts here. Discover new skills, ideas and experiences at your library.

AI literacy for the internet and social media. ALIA Program.

Learn the essentials of AI literacy for the internet and social media. Discover how generative AI works, identify AI-generated content, fact check online information, recognise bias and use AI ethically and responsibly. Participants must bring a smartphone, tablet or laptop.

For adults. Bookings required.

Multiple locations | Various dates and times.

To book: Visit loglib.org/artificial or scan the QR code.

Creating calm in a busy world

Feeling overwhelmed or finding it hard to switch off? Join psychologist, author and Logan local Liz Anderson for a practical workshop on calming a busy mind and reducing stress. Discover simple, effective tools to help you feel more grounded, balanced and at ease in everyday life.

For adults. Bookings required.

Logan Central Library | Saturday 10 October
1:30 pm to 3:30 pm | Phone 3412 4100

To book: Visit loglib.org/wellbeing or scan the QR code.

Organic gardening 101

Grow your own nutrient rich veggies and herbs with confidence. This hands on workshop covers healthy soil, seasonal crop selection, pest and disease management, fertilising, mulching and smart watering techniques. Maximise your harvest with horticulturist Claire Bickle.

For adults. Bookings required.

Logan West Library | Saturday 17 October
10:30 am to 12 noon | Phone 3081 6700

To book: Visit loglib.org/greenliving or scan the QR code.

Raising awareness and promoting dementia-friendly communities

Join the Logan Dementia Alliance for a community session focused on dementia awareness. By attending, you'll take a step toward becoming a Dementia Friend and helping build a more informed, supportive community.

For adults. Bookings required.

Beenleigh Library | Saturday 17 October
10 am to 11:30 am | Phone 2899 7300

To book: Visit loglib.org/dementia or scan the QR code.

Food preservation made simple

Discover easy ways to preserve your garden harvest and reduce food waste. Learn drying, water bath and pressure canning, plus fermentation basics including sauerkraut, kimchi and kombucha. Presented by Doreen Jachmann, Nourished Landscapes.

For adults. Bookings required.

Logan Village Library | Thursday 22 October
1 pm to 3 pm | Phone 5549 8400

To book: Visit loglib.org/getstarted or scan the QR code.

Mapping your family history

Discover how maps can help uncover your family history. Learn how to use historical maps, directories and other resources to research the places your ancestors lived. An easy introduction for anyone beginning their family history journey. Presented by the Local Heritage Specialist.

All ages welcome. Bookings required.

Logan Central Library | Wednesday 21 October
10:30 am to 12 noon | Phone 3412 4100

To book: Visit loglib.org/heritage or scan the QR code.

Writing Friday: author visit with Felix Long

Logan author Felix Long shares practical advice on separating your professional author profile from your personal online presence. Felix will also cover digital security, algorithm taming and maintaining multiple pen names.

For adults. Bookings required.

Logan Central Library | Friday 30 October
10 am to 11 am | Phone 3412 4100

To book: Visit loglib.org/writecreate or scan the QR code.

Canva made simple

Join a friendly, hands-on Canva workshop designed for beginners. Learn how to create a free Canva account, use the basic tools, and make simple, eye-catching designs such as business cards, and social media posts. Presented by Jackie Matjasec, author of The Simple Budget. Bring your own laptop or device.

For adults. Bookings required.

Logan Central Library | Saturday 31 October
10 am to 12 noon | Phone 3412 4100

To book: Visit loglib.org/getstarted or scan the QR code.

COMING IN NOVEMBER

Recycling made easy: what goes where

Join Logan City Council's waste and recycling educators for a practical workshop during National Recycling Week.

Beenleigh: ☎ 2899 7300

Logan Hyperdome: ☎ 3081 5400

Logan Village: ☎ 5549 8400

Greenbank: ☎ 2899 5000

Logan Central: ☎ 3412 4100

Logan West: ☎ 3081 6700

Jimboomba: ☎ 5646 1300

Logan North: ☎ 3541 6100

Marsden: ☎ 3827 8400